CLASS OF 1935

CLARK CUNNINGHAM

"Ferd"

As an athlete "Ferd" really does rate;
And as a lover—boy! he's great!

MARY ANN BIRD

"Birdie"

Modest, simple and sweet.

HELEN CLEMENTS

"Helen"

She most lives who thinks the most,
Feels the noblest, acts the best.

MAXWELL MATHENA

"Mac"

He's not simply good—
But good for something.

ROBERT HALL

"Bob"

God made the man, and it's the man's own fault if he allows a woman to make the fool of him.

LYNWOOD WILSON

"Woodie"

Woodie's face and manners are truly very sweet,
And she has a voice that makes her sweetness quite complete.

DOROTHY MARTIN

"Sweetie Pie"

None knew her, but to love her,
None named her, but to praise her.

DAN ROBERTSON

"Dan"

Take everybody's advice, then do as you please.

CLASS OF 1935

HENRY HUBBLE

"Lussic"

If laughing were a sin, this poor boy would have a tall piece of explaining to do on Judgment Day.

IRMA LONG

"Irma"

And when the morrow came, I answered still—"Tomorrow."

BEULAH ARTRIP

"Beulah"

Silence is more musical than any song.

RICHARD COVEY

"Rich"

Fast on feet, but slow in wits.

CUBID EPPERLY

"Cupid"

Study is a dreary thing, so I don't do it.

GRACE ANTHONY

"Gracie"

A jolly, unselfish personality is her greatest gift.

EDRIE BARTON

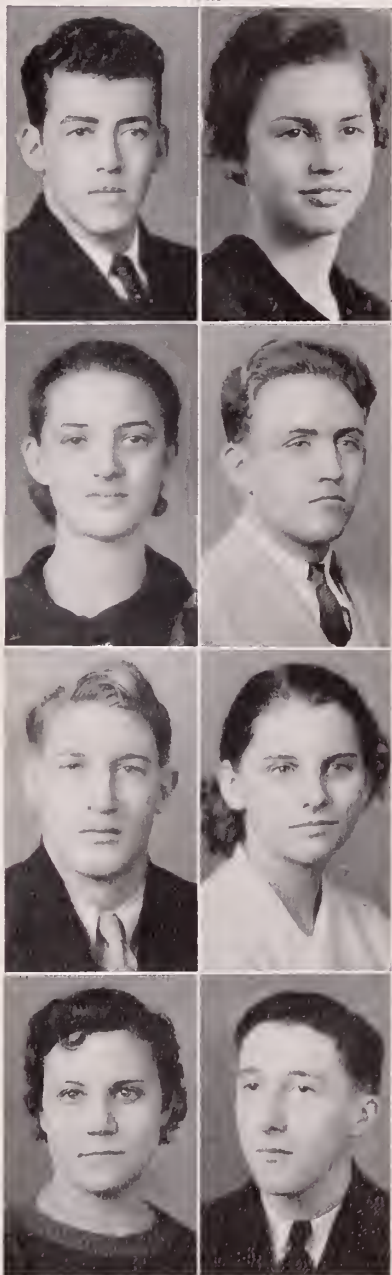

"Eddie"

Never idle, never still,
Always talking, talk she will.

ROGER AKER

"Roger"

Work is work, and must be done,
Yet, as I work, I have my fun.

CLASS OF 1935

WIRT SMITH
"Wirt"

The teacher is darling, but I'm still in love with Bonnie.

ANNIE FRED HINES
"Freddie"

Clever, original, naughty and nice,
She's all that and then some.

INEZ RHODES
"Inez"

Tall and slim and full of mischief.

JUDITH FOSTER
"Judy"

Virtue is always quiet and timid.

IRENE SMITH
"Irene"

She can talk; she can sing,
She can do most anything.

LEWIS WEBB
"Lewis"

Not too serious, not too gay,
But a jolly good sport in every way.

MARY SMITH
"Mary"

Quiet, kind and unassuming.

ALVA BELLE YOUNG "Alva"

She is little, she is shy,
But there's mischief in her eye.

CLASS OF 1935

WELLS CALDWELL

"Tidy-Wah"

You're not a "Comedy of Errors," nor a "Midsummer's Night Dream,"
But take it "As You Like It," you are just what you seem.

VICTORIA HINES

"Victoria"

Victoria's very little; one inch she could not spare,
But somehow or other, she lets you know she's there.

EVELYN HALL

"Ducky"

Her face makes sunshine in shady places.

RUSSELL BROOKS

"Swede"

Lazy, slow and unconcerned,
He went to class but seldom learned.

BILLY RICHARDS

"Bill"

A bundle of good nature.

MARGUERITE WARDREP

"Kate"

She's worth her weight in gold.

MILDRED AKERS

"Mildred"

She talks and we talk with her,
We stop and she talks alone.

DON UDELL

"Don"

Don is a chatterbox; he talks an awful lot,
But we like to hear the things he says, so it really matters not.

CLASS OF 1935

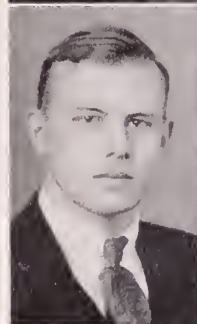

THELMA HALL
"Thelma"

True to her work, her play and her friends

DOROTHY ADAMS
"Dot"

Work is work, and must be done,
Yet, as I work, I have my fun.

JOSEPH BAKER
"Joe"

Little he asks; his wants are few.

RUTH CHRISMAN
"Ruth"

To know her is to trust her.

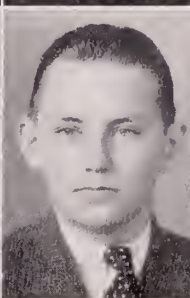

GENEVA CALDWELL
"Rebecca"

Laugh and the world laughs with you.

KATHERINE CAMPBELL
"Katherine"

A cheerful pal, a friend to all.

ELLA MARGARET TOMLINSON
"Bill"

A woman is easily governed, if a man takes her in hand.

ALDEN HANKLA
"Spike"

A small person with a big heart.

CLASS OF 1935

ARNOLD FISHER

"Arnold"

A jolly good fellow.

IRENE HARTSOCK

"Irene"

A maiden never bold in spirit,
Always still and quiet.

CHERRIE MAE SAUNDERS

"Cherrie"

An open-hearted maiden, true and pure.

JAMES CARL KING

"Jaco"

Of all the forms of discourse he seems to prefer argument.

MARGARET ANN WILLIAMS

"Maggie"

Jolly, yet serious;
Fun-loving, yet sincere.

MARIE SULLIVAN

"Marie"

Sweet prompting to kindest deeds are in her every act.

AMMON SHOWALTER

"Big Ammon"

A cheerful pal, a friend to all.

ELIZABETH REGAN

"Elizabeth"

A sunny smile and dark brown hair,
Lips that laugh, and eyes that dare.

CLASS OF 1935

CLINTON DONAHOE

"Clint"

Sometimes I sit and think, and think, and think,
And sometimes I just sit, and sit, and sit.

MARY ANN HEDRICK

"Mary Ann"

The true standard of quality is seated in her mind.

SARAH LOVELACE

"Sarah"

Her place is a hard one to fill.

BONHAM MOTTESHEARD

"Bonnie"

To hurry and worry is not my creed;
Things will happen, so what's the need?

CECIL FISHER

"Willie Boy"

We laugh with him, and at him,
For he's filled with wit up to the rim.

VERA MAE DALTON

"Vera"

I have often regretted my speech, but never my silence.

NANCY LEE PAMPLIN

"Nancy"

She is ever laughing, and the worst part of it is that,
We never can tell what she's laughing at.

WALTER GRAHAM

"Walter"

I'll be merry, I'll be free,
I'll be sad for nobody.

CLASS OF 1935

SARAH DUNCAN

Some may laugh, some may talk,
But I do both, forever.

WILLIAM COOPER GILBERT "Cooper"

Fame comes only after death, and I'm in no hurry for it.

LOUISE MOORE "Lindy"

Worthy of your confidence, true to her trusts, always dependable.

DOROTHY SHUMATE "Dorsie"

How can I study with love affairs on my brain?

ELIZABETH WILLIAMS "Lib"

Quiet, reserved, and of a pleasing disposition.

STANLEY RATCLIFFE

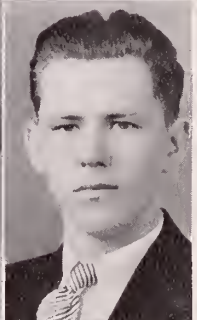

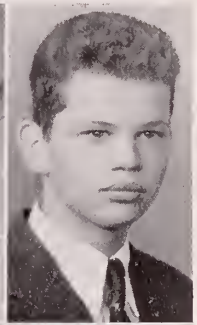

My heart leaps up when I behold a female in the street.

MARY LOUISE CAMPBELL "Pete"

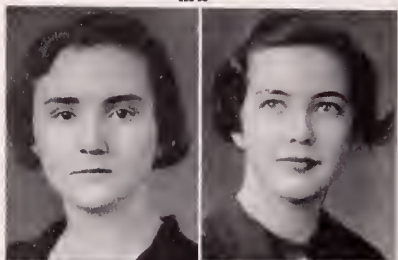

My own thoughts are my own companions.

MABEL WEBB "Jimmy"

Jimmy is so athletic; she is merry, too, Without her cheery grin, what would we do?

CLASS OF 1935

FRANCES RITTER

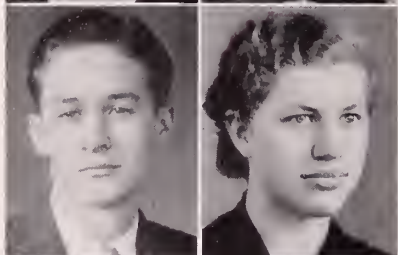

"Frances"

They always win the golden day,
Who listen much, and little say.

ELIZABETH JORDAN

"Ibby"

A mighty hunter was she,
And her prey was man.

BOBBY LEE BAKER

"Bob"

To have friends, you must be one.

GLADYS MCNIEL

"Gladys"

If service we desire,
Our Gladys we all hire.

HAZEL WILLIS

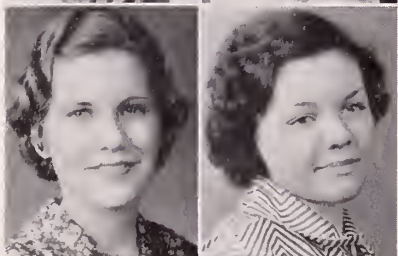

"Haze"

Small in stature,
But not in achievements.

RUBY NANCE

"Ruby"

Her voice is low and sweet,
And she charms everyone she meets.

EVELYN MOTTESHEARD

"Evelyn"

When studies and pleasures crash,
Then let studies go to smash.

GENEVA LOVETTE

"Dick"

An apt leader of a gang,
Chuck full of pep and slang.

HELEN WILLIAMSON

"Helen"

I'ts nice to be natural when you're naturally nice.

MOTTO—"We can because we think we can"

THE CLASS OF '35

Riding down the winding highway,
Overlooking old New River,
On yon hillside ever beckoning,
Stands our Alma Mater, ever.

We have in that spacious building
Shared our joys and sorrows, too;
And the year is slowly passing,
When we shall bid it all "Adieu."

But that will only quicken memory
Of the good old days lived o'er;
We shall hail our Alma Mater
After many years roll by.

Then, when we come to the end of the road,
And on our couches lie,
Sweet dreams shall rest our weary minds
Of the Class of '35.

Senior Features

SENIOR FEATURES

History

CLASS OF 1935 Presents "FOUR YEARS OF PROGRESS"

A Comedy in Four Acts

Directed by: Miss HUGHES, Mrs. RAYMOND LEE (nee Miss LORENA CALDWELL), and Miss ENGART.

Major Characters: WELLS CALDWELL, MALCOLM CAMPBELL, CLARK CUNNINGHAM, MARGUERITE WARDREP, ROBERT HALL, DOROTHY MARTIN, HELEN WILLIAMSON, ELIZABETH JORDAN and MAXWELL MATHENA.

Minor Characters: Seventy to one hundred and five poor insignificant beings.

ACT I.

SCENE I—Radford High School.

TIME—Freshman Year.

In this scene the actors undergo a sudden transition to a higher step of development. However, it seems an age before the signs of their utter inferiority and greenness begin to disappear. Victims of a rather swift evolution of personal bearing, they flutter about with an immovable air of importance, which is afterwards realized to be a most pathetic illusion.

Highlights in the scene:

Class organization,
Participation in Stunt Night.

ACT II.

SCENE I—Radford High School.

TIME—Sophomore Year.

In this act the players take a second step with a firmer grasp upon themselves, and with a knowledge that they really have a group to look down upon. Who can blame them for that feeling of "genuine mastership"? They are Sophomore players and who can deny them the right?

Highlights in the scene:

Class organization,
Participation in Stunt Night,
Won prize for best Home Room Assembly program.

ACT III.

SCENE—Same as Acts I and II.

TIME—Junior Year.

The players now appear for the first time on the set for more privileges. They become the Senior backers; their work takes on a somewhat serious aspect; even their grand opinion of themselves begins to sink at this stage.

Highlights in this scene:

Ordered Senior rings,
Participation in Christmas Cantata,
Won first prize Stunt Night,
Took trip on "El Dorado" (Junior-Senior Banquet), Operetta (Sailor Maids),
Picnic at Dixie Caverns.

ACT IV.

SCENE—Same as Acts I, II and III.

TIME—Senior Year.

The end of an epoch leaps towards the players. In their eyes their accomplishments become pitifully minute. They almost envy the amateurs (the Freshmen and Sophomores) their right to glory in what they are not. But soon these players will be offered a part in another play, "College," where, if they so choose, they may again become Freshmen and Sophomores.

Highlights in this last scene:

Senior rings arrive,
Presented in Assembly Program,
Edited the Annual,
Trip to Mars and Midway Beauties (Carnival),
Took part in Stunt Night,
Took part in Operetta,
Junior-Senior Banquet,
Senior Play,
Senior Assembly program (Class Day program), Graduated.

CURTAIN.

SENIOR FEATURES

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In view of the inevitable dissolution of the partnership of Mr. Senior Class with Mr. Radford High School, I hereby take this opportunity of notifying my friends and creditors of the dissolving of the firm on May 30, 1935. From this time forth, I, Mr. Senior Class, will be in an entirely new business; that of displaying the knowledge gained from Mr. Radford High School.

Before I leave, I will have an auction sale which will prove very beneficial to people of such standing as Mr. Under-Classmen. From Lot No. 1, I will sell at a price of 50 cents, such invaluable commodities as: Index to Miss Hughes' Social Science questions, one volume of Jordan's Conceit, a book on "The Technique of a Famous Lover", by Clark Cunningham; the Gibson and Williamson formula for neatness, voices of Marguerite Wardrep and Alden Hankla, one horse laugh and a soothing voice (donated by Margaret Ann Williams).

A price of $25, below that of any other mortal being, will purchase the following articles from Lot No. 2: A Book of Knowledge, by Mathena and Clement; Plans for a Love-Nest, by Webb and Wilson; a typewriter, which is now able to write love notes and rhymes by itself (donated by Wells Caldwell); the Girlish Blushes of Judith Foster; the latest slang expressions (with the hope that Miss Bane and Miss Lewis purchase them to use in their English classes); Geneva Caldwell's insatiable appetite for "Hot-Dogs" (unselfishly contributed by Donald Barton); permission to speak begrudgingly granted by Miss Brown, Miss Bones and Miss Engart; and "Divine Inspirations," who refuse to go out of business with us.

This sale will come off on the 30th day of May, 1935. If at any time I may serve you, Mr. Public, or others, please remember I am your humble servant and friend.

Sincerely,

MR. SENIOR CLASS.

P. S.—I have a special book on the "True Art of Remaining a Bachelor," by Alfred Kemper Eagle.

Junior-Senior Banquet

Believe it or not, the Juniors, Seniors and the Faculty of Radford High School got in "Dutch" on the night of March 29.

We, the one hundred and forty-three guests, found ourselves seated between huge dikes and a large blue windmill towering above our heads. It was wonderful to be in the land of tulips and windmills with bewitching Dutch maids at our service.

Our toastmaster, Jeff Loftus, entertained us with a well arranged program. This consisted of an invocation by John Barton, an address of welcome by Malcolm Campbell, a response by Clarke Cunningham, a solo, "Little Dutch Mill," by Marguerite Wardrep, a talk by the Junior Sponsor, Mr. Giesen, a tap dance by three of the Dutch maids and a "Dutchy" talk by Miss Engart, the Senior Sponsor. The chief address of the occasion was delivered by our Superintendent, Mr. Barnett.

Throughout the evening we were entertained with music by Joe's Rhythmic Rascals. As a souvenir of this memorable sojourn in Holland, each guest was given a blue windmill containing the program and the menu.

SCENE: Living room of Rand home in a mid-Western city.

TIME: 1933 and 1934.

SYNOPSIS: The Rand family is the hub of the play. It consists of Franklin and Julia Rand, and their four children, Donald, Diana, Theodore, and Esther, ranging in age from twenty to fifteen years. Having inherited his modest fortune, Franklin Rand, and those dependent upon him, have never realized what economy and team work mean to the average family. A bank failure precipitates disaster to the Rand publishing business and almost over night the family is brought face to face with poverty. The first reaction is that of incredulity, followed by open rebellion on the part of Julia, Donald, and Diana. Theodore and Esther fight to the last ditch for the despairing father.

To add to their troubles, Donald, the social rebel, marries Margie Scanlon, the daughter of a notorious law breaker. Into the maelstrom of disorder and bickering comes Margie, fitted through a life of combat to add new blood to a weakened family organism. Against overwhelming odds she turns the tide against Richard Crandall, a suave, rascally politician who would take advantage of the Rand misfortunes to make a tool of Franklin and finally succeeds in planting the family fortunes on firm ground at the close of the play.

ACTIVITIES

1935 Senior Kick-off

Another gridiron season has passed into the distance, and with it goes some good players. My own experience tells that the boys will never forget that dear old Coach of theirs, who pulled at his hair and foamed at the mouth when some play failed or the line did not hold. Although the final whistle has blown, let us sum up the score for those who have played their last game.

Cunningham, who reminds us of Ichabod Crane, has shambled off for his last R. H. S. pass.

"Bobby" Hall was very courageous this season. Perhaps the encouragement came from Washington, D. C., and it wasn't the new dealers, either.

Showalter, who resembled a battleship cleared for action, will be missed. His inspiration lies not in country lanes, but in "Rhodes."

Fisher, as a guard, was outstanding, in view of the fact that this was his first season as a regular.

Brooks, as the ball carrier, will be missed. He reminded us of an earthquake as the ground trembled beneath his pounding feet.

Richards was superb. If Knute Rockne had lived, Richards would have made good material for him. Bill could smile and overpower his opponent at the same time.

Covey, a sly cunning player, who looked like the Hunchback of Notre Dame in the line, will ever remain in the memory of the R. H. S. football enthusiasts of 1934.

Hetherington is a friendly, sunshiny fellow; a good player, a man of action rather than words.

Udell—look what fate gave us for a football player! An old, old salt from Davy Jones' locker, who came to us from over the bounding main. Let's have more seamen!

With this review, the curtain falls. May these fellows who are left behind keep the old banners from drooping, as did those who have gone before.

CUBID EPPERLY,
Athletic Editor.

GIRLS

What the girls' squad lacked in size was made up by a never-give-up attitude accompanied by complete confidence in "Big Jimmy" Webb, captain, who consistently led and pulled her team admirably out of many close battles. To her skillful performances our hats are off! Those who developed rapidly under Miss Bones, our coach, to share a good season were: ILA HITE, F. and C.; TOMMY EAKIN, G. and C.; CECILE BROWN, G.; MILDRED AKER, F.; ALVA BELLE YOUNG, S. and C.; MARY WALKER, F., and KATHERINE LIPSCOMB, G.

Mildred Aker, "Jimmy" Webb, and Alva B. Young will leave a gap this year which will be difficult to fill. Radford High's hope for next season will depend on Hite, Walker, Gilbert, Brown, Eakin, Foster, Elsie Tolley, Margaret Tolley, McConnell, Lipscomb, McDonald and Showalter.

BOYS

The 1935 R. H. S. quint was believed by many to be the strongest ever to represent Radford High. They started slowly, but improved rapidly, to hit a fast stride by the middle of January under the watchful eye of Coach Giesen. Their record stands 13 games won and 7 lost. They scored 476 points to the opposition's 348.

The scorers were led by the Captain, Clarke Cunningham, lengthy guard, who registered 155 points. He was paced by the other guard, Malvern Hetherington, with 117 as a total. Roger Aker, center, performed nicely on the defense throughout the season. Curtis Hurst and Charles Hetherington as a rule were the starting forwards although Wells Caldwell and William Showalter received the starting call for several games. Cecil Fisher and Buddy Vest, substitute forwards, rendered valuable service during the season as did Arnold Fisher and Jeff Loftus, as guard substitutes.

The team was efficiently managed by Bill Allen. Charles Hetherington, who displayed splendid teamwork, was elected to captain the 1936 quint.

ACTIVITIES

Debating Club

The Debating Club gave its first public program, March 8th, at Activities Period before the student body. The subject for the High School Day at Radford State Teachers College was used, and the best speaker was selected to represent the school March 30th, at the College.

Dual debates were held with all the High Schools in District Seven, which had debating teams. The Club was also represented in the District Contests of the Virginia Literary and Athletic League.

ACTIVITIES

The Social Studies Club

The Social Studies Club is the youngest of the co-curricular activities. It was organized in the spring of 1934 by a group of Juniors, who were particularly interested in fostering a better spirit of citizenship, and developing a deeper understanding of the social, political and economic order.

Membership to this Club is open to students of the four classes of the High School meeting other requirements. Some of the other requirements are: an average of a high C in the social studies, and a recommendation from the teacher in this field.

The Club has brought two speakers to the School this year and has given a tea to the honor students of the High School.

RADFORD HIGH NEWS

The chief purposes of the Radford High School News are to keep the pupils informed about the activities of the school, to foster a school spirit through the editorials, and to give the pupils of the High School experience in the writing of news articles, editorials, and to offer experiences in business practices.

The paper is financed by the activities fund and advertisements. Each pupil receives nine issues.

The staff consists of:

GLADYS McNIEL	Editor-in-Chief
TOMMY EAKIN, MAXWELL MATHENA	Assistant Editors
EVELYN MOTTESHEARD, IRENE SMITH	Business Managers
ANDREW McCASKEY	Alumni

A number of the high school students attended and participated in the district meeting held at the Radford State Teachers' College, Radford.

A delegate was sent to Lynchburg to take part in an adult meeting, October 8th.

Booster Club

The Booster Club of Radford High has for its chief objective, "Boosting." It supports the teams, organizations, and activities in every way. It also awards letters in cheer leading.

ACTIVITIES

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association was reorganized in September, 1934, with approximately thirty-five members present at the first meeting. The officers were elected and a committee was chosen to make plans for the Home-Coming Day on October 12.

The program on this day was well attended and was followed by a ball game in the afternoon and a banquet that evening, held in the high school gymnasium. After the banquet the Alumni sponsored a dance in the Legion Hall.

No plans for the future have been completed thus far, but it is hoped that the Home-Coming Day will become an annual Alumni event, and in the spring these plans will probably be completed.

A great deal of interest was shown in the Association this year, and with a growing interest and the co-operation of its members, the Radford High School Alumni Association can become one of the most active organizations of its kind.

Annual Printers ~

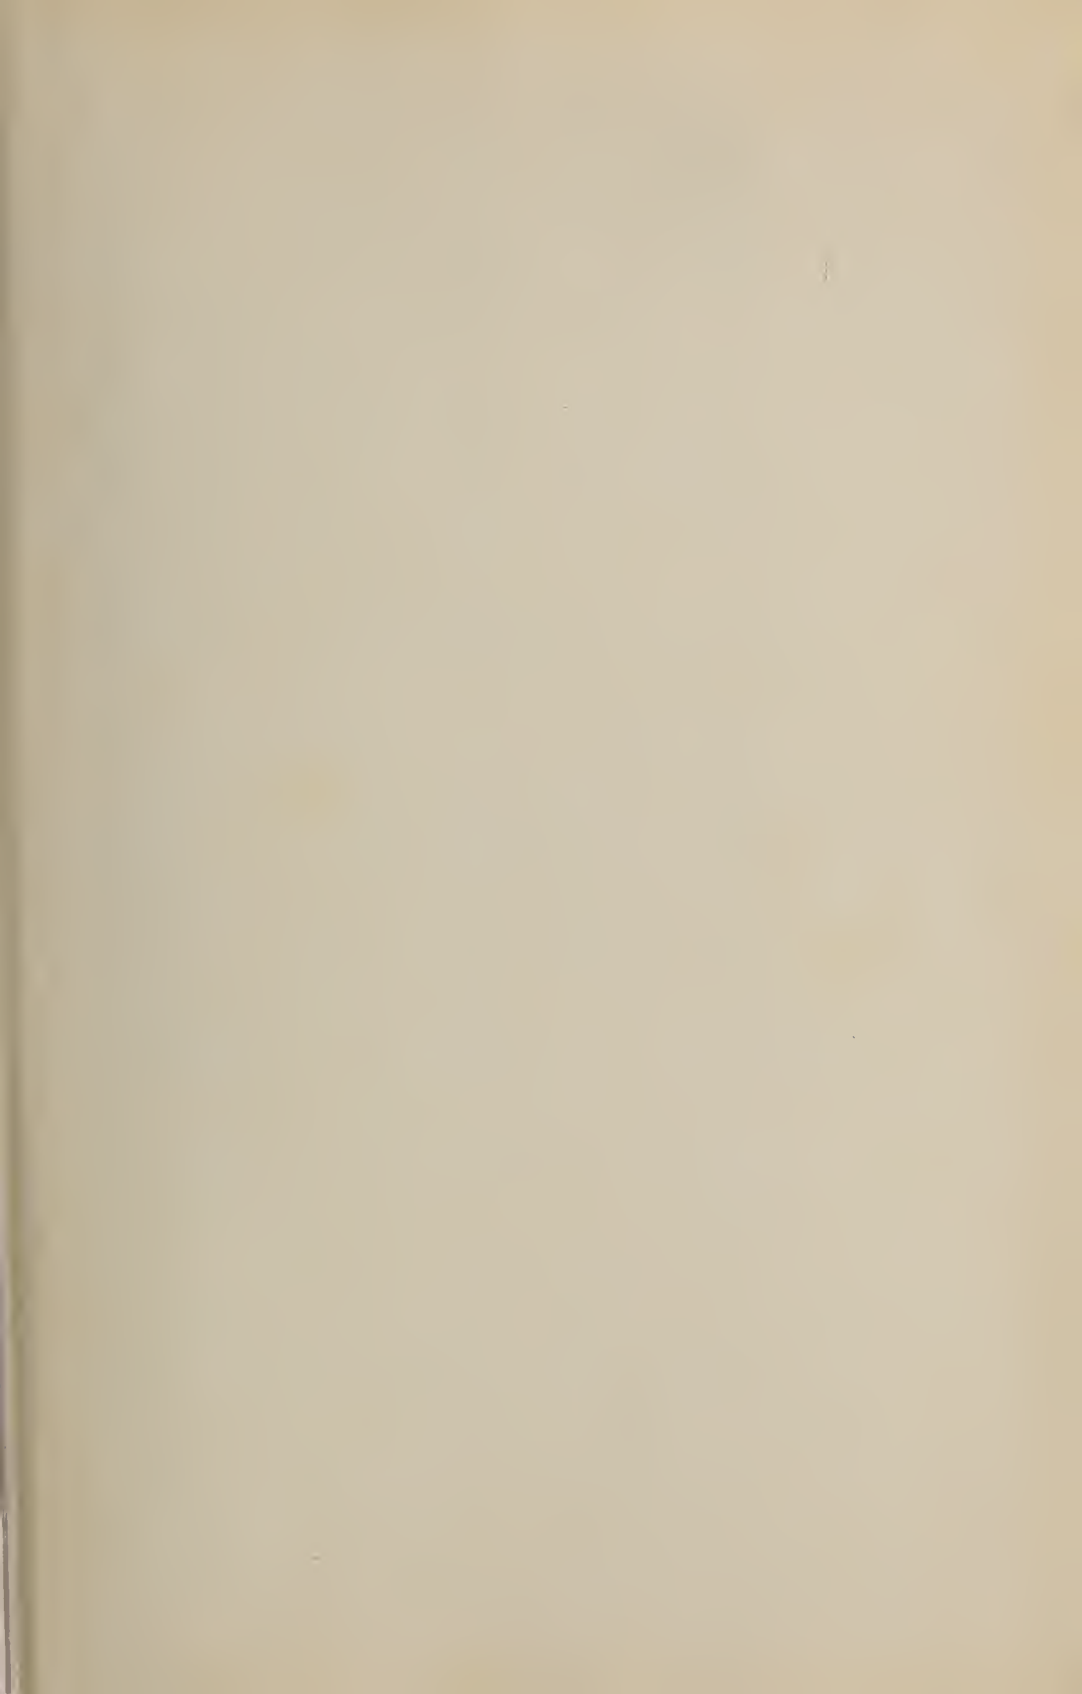

THE ART of book making as developed in the 20th century requires the highest degree of skill. It demands artistic handling of type faces, many of which have a classic beauty in themselves. High grade presswork, which necessitates hours of tedious make-ready to bring out the contrast of light and shadow found in every engraving. And last, but not least, the bookbinding—the art preservative that cares for your book for years to come. Yes, we do all these things, and many more, and our journeymen take pride in producing books, especially College Annuals, of which all of us are proud.
